'Macbeth's' Seven Major Actors Ready for Opening Next Week

Six different schools on campus will be represented by actors in seven major roles in "Macbeth," Jan. 29 through Feb. 2. A member of the Missoula high school faculty, Glenn S. Reznor, will play the title role.

Reznor teaches English and Spanish at the high school and is doing graduate work in education at the University. He is a graduate of Thiel college near Pittsburgh, Pa., where he played the lead in "Robin Hood," and had major roles in "Midsummer Night's Dream," "School for Scandal," and "Hamlet."

After college he organized a little theater group in Greenville, Pa., and spent three years acting and directing. He was in the army for four years and worked on the Miles City Star. He also was an announcer for the radio station here. This fall Reznor played Beverly Carleton in the Missoula community theater's production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Lovberg as Lady Macbeth
Marjorie Lovberg, Missoula, who plays Lady Macbeth, also has experience in summer stock. She was invited to join a company at Highland Park, Ill., last summer by the leading lady, Marrian Walters, formerly of Missoula. She played in "The Corn Is Green" and "Family Album."

Miss Lovberg appeared in eight high school plays and does humorous readings. Her first college drama experience was in "The Madwoman of Chaillot." She is a freshman English major.

Dick Barsness, Medicine Lake, went with a friend to tryouts for "Boy Meets Girl" with no intention of trying out. He was given a part and has played in three other plays since. He played the male lead in "Joan of Lorraine" and is now playing Macduff. He is a senior in the pharmacy school and is a Masquer.

Shapira Plays Triple Role

Jack Shapira, New York City, who plays Banquo, Siward, and the porter, has appeared in five campus productions. He received his first part when he came back stage to see a friend during rehearsals for "Antigone" and was made a spear carrier. His interest in acting grew until he changed his major from sociology to drama. He is a Masquer.

Art Lundell, Milwaukee, Wis., who appears as Duncan and the doctor, carried over his interest in drama from high school. His first college drama experience was in "Our Town." Since then he has appeared in seven plays and is now president of Masquers. He is a junior in the journalism school.

Plays Seventh Role

Tom Sherlock, Great Falls, took a course in applied stagecraft during his freshman year, which led to a job with the stage crew of "Our Town." His part as Ross in "Macbeth" is the seventh part he has had since then. He is a junior in business administration and a member of Masquers.

Otis Packwood, Billings, will play Malcolm in his first play at MSU. He transferred from Eastern Montana college two years ago, where he played the lead in "The Importance of Being Earnest" and had parts in two other plays. He is a junior in the law school.

Ross Plays Lady Macduff

Dorothy Ross, Butte, acted with the Frontier Town Players in Helena last summer. Her part as Lady Macduff in the current drama production is her seventh part in MSU drama. She is a junior drama major and a Masquer.

Larry Kadlec, Missoula, is stage manager, and is also in charge of makeup. Eileen Polk, Williston, N. D., and Virginia Gipple, Havre, will assist him.

Donna Mithun, Missoula; Joann Helmer, Polson; and Joan Ward, Missoula, are in charge of props. Audrey Linscheid, Vida, is electrician and Tom Sherlock, Great Falls, is carpenter.

Four Women Honored at Matrix Table

Peggy Clapp, Irene Stritch, and Mary Joan Tascher, all of Missoula, and Anne Fowler, Lewistown, were honored at a Matrix Table banquet last night in the Hotel Florence.

They were selected for scholastic accomplishment and work in MSU activities. Miss Clapp and Miss Stritch, both seniors in English, have been active in Aquamids, Masquers, Mortar board, English club, Spurs, and in their sororities. Miss Clapp is a member of Kappa Tau, senior scholastic honorary, and Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary. Miss Stritch has served on the Associated Women Students' board, Radio guild, Westminster fellowship, and Alpha Lambda Delta.

Miss Tascher, a junior, has been active in Spurs, Royaleers, Newman club, and Red Cross. Miss Fowler, a sophomore, is secretary of AWS, and is in Spurs, Canterbury club, and the Student Religious council. Both are active in their sororities.

All four of the women received books as a remembrance of the honor.

Booze Outlawed for Ball; Husky Bouncers Selected

Don Cullen, Forester's ball chief push, yesterday extended an invitation to the general public to attend an open house in the Men's gym Saturday afternoon. Judging of the beard contest by guests of honor is scheduled for 4 p.m., Cullen said. This evening's edition of the two-evening affair will begin at 9.

Candidates Named for Photo Contest

Plans have been nearly completed for the annual Royaleers Photogenic contest and dance which will be held in the Gold room Feb. 2. Bob Jasken, Kalispell, publicity chairman, urged students to come "drag or stag" and enjoy themselves while dancing to the music of the Northern Knights. There will be square dancing, folk dancing and modern dancing, Jasken said. The dance will begin after the Grizzly-Bobcat hoop game and will continue until midnight.

The candidates for this year's contest have been chosen from each of the living groups. The finalists are: Janet Bailey, Red Lodge, North hall; Jane Baker, Tygh Valley, Ore., Delta Gamma; Arlene Carpenter, Billings, Tri Delt; Marlene Cresien, Great Falls, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jane Gaethke, Butte, Sigma Kappa; Bobbe Hanson, Missoula, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Janice Ludwig, Kalispell, Alpha Phi; Dorothy Reed, Livingston, Alpha Chi Omega; Betty Rumph, Broadus, New hall; Nickie Scott, Tenafly, N. J., Synadelphic.

Portraits of the candidates will be on display next week in the Student Union and downtown. Location of the downtown display will be announced at a later date.

Tickets will go on sale in the Student Union coke store next Monday, Jan. 27, and will also be sold by Royaleer members. The tickets will be used for voting as well as for admission to the dance.

Contest committee heads are: Bob Jasken, Kalispell, publicity; Ralph Backa, Great Falls, refreshments and decorations; Helen Lewis, Boulder, entertainment; Larry Holt, Anaconda, orchestra; Eddie Graycan, Cleveland, Ohio, tickets; Shirley Pahrman, Missoula, and Arden Grandy, East Helena, pictures.

The winner of the contest last year was Lynn Hestekin, Billings, Tri Delt. Because the contest was originated last year, Miss Hestekin was the first "Miss Photogenic."

Truman Insists On Vatican Plan

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—(P)—President Truman says he will not retreat from his plan to send an ambassador to the Vatican. He says he has no intention of appointing a personal representative to the Holy See. He gave no indication who he might appoint since Gen. Mark Clark asked that his name be withdrawn.

Meantime, some 200 Protestant ministers and laymen have handed the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee two petitions protesting the appointment of any American ambassador to the Vatican. Spokesmen for the group told Democratic Senator Tom Connally, Texas, that the petitions contain 50,000 signatures and are "only a token," as they put it.

A small block of tickets has been reserved for townspeople, according to Cullen, to satisfy past requests for ball tickets by Missoula residents.

Among those entered in the beard contest is the "beardless lady," Doris Luckman, Missoula. Pre-judging information indicates that she is one of the top contenders for first prize in the beard race.

Cash for Fund

In addition to providing fun and frolic, the two-night affair adds more cash to the Forestry club loan fund. This fund provides loans to forestry students, enabling them to further their education. All profits from the dance go into this loan fund.

Cullen further stated that any lawyer over 80 accompanied by his grandparents will be admitted to the dance. But he said other lawyers must be properly chaperoned by persons endorsed by forestry club authorities.

Bouncers Provided

"In order to assure a proper spirit of decorum," Cullen said, "the foresters will maintain a group of forester huskies who will eject unruly persons."

Cullen emphasized that liquor will not be permitted in the gym and any found will be confiscated. Cullen said this is in accordance with state regulations which prohibit alcoholic beverages on the campus.

The rules which have been set up by the University administration and state board of education are not designed to dampen the spirits of any Forestry ball participants. "They are designed," Cullen said, "to insure that we all have a good time this year and for many more years to come."

Draft Head Wants UMT Begun Now

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—(P)—Draft director Lewis Hershey has suggested that Congress let the armed services start universal military training now.

He says there have been "some indications" that the armed services will not need as many men as had been anticipated. He suggested putting into the UMT program men who have been deferred from the draft—students, farmers, and others.

Religious and labor union leaders also appeared before the House Armed Services committee, but they voiced their objections to UMT. CIO Secretary James Carey said enactment of the UMT now under what he called "momentary hysteria" would be a "tragedy."

Defense department spokesmen say they hope to start UMT next fall with 60,000 volunteers.

Meantime, draft chief Lewis Hershey has ordered state draft directors to fill their February manpower quotas with men 21 years of age and older, wherever possible.

Truman Still Hesitant On Presidential Contest

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—(P)—President Truman gave newsmen a workout today in what he called the great American game of politics.

He took on all comers at his weekly news conference, answering all questions, in his own way, and leaving everyone with as much as they'd known before: nothing. What they had wanted to know is whether Mr. Truman will run again.

The most revealing and exact statement the President made was to comment that he would probably announce before April 29 whether he will be a candidate for re-election. Even on that, he described his job as exceedingly strenuous and incredibly difficult, yet said that after almost seven years, he isn't tired.

Mr. Truman mentioned the date, April 29, because that's the deadline for filing to run in the Mis-

The Fight Against the Clauses

We don't get far when we try to preach down racial discrimination from our college pulpits.

It's too easy for anyone to point to the Greek rows in the colleges where active discrimination as to race or religion is often practiced. Because fraternity membership stands at more than 1,250,000 men that are spread through more than 2,500 chapters, it's hard to brush aside the discrimination clauses as being insignificant.

Here's the situation at MSU. Although most of our fraternities and sororities have the clauses,

I believe most of the chapters dislike the restrictions and would toss them out if a real test came. Several houses have been struggling for years to have the rulings lifted.

The fight for abolition of the clauses has been carried on at the national conventions of the fraternities. Occasionally those chapters that support the discrimination rulings have attempted to pull the curtain over their own racial and religious edicts by pointing to the clubs and professional societies in post-college life that practice the same discrimination. By doing this, they forget that if a college society is to teach, it first must practice what it believes.

Dick Maloy, a recent student city editor of the Michigan Daily, put it this way: "Why not clean up these blots right here at the University before trying to convince the rest of society that discrimination is a bad thing."

The chapter fight against the national ruling was brought to a head at Amherst college in 1950 when Phi Kappa Psi went against their national clauses and pledged a Negro, Thomas Gibbs. This resulted in the suspension of the Amherst chapter from Phi Kappa Psi.

Eventually, the disturbed trustees at Amherst brought out the ruling that no Amherst fraternity could retain discrimination clauses and stay on campus.

Those who fight to keep discrimination clauses try to confuse the issues and thus win their point. Such a trick was attempted at a national interfraternity meeting that was covered by the New York Times. The article said that a fraternity official in high quarters asked for a show of hands on those who favored "inter-color fraternities and also would consider inter-marriage between races."

At this, a delegate at the convention rose to his feet and sharply reminded him, "We're running fraternities, not families."

These struggles to abandon discrimination clauses come up every year at the national fraternity conventions; if the liberal chapters will continue their anti-discrimination work, they will eventually overcome the blocks of those who do not understand the real meaning of fraternity.—D.W.

Oregon Student Plans Substitute For Hell Weeks

Herb Cook, a junior at the University of Oregon, has presented to the Oregon Interfraternity council a definite plan for the abolition of initiation hazing in favor of service projects.

Under the Cook proposal, fraternities and sororities would apply through the office of student affairs, which would act as a clearing house for service projects. The projects, selected by the office after consultations with civic, welfare, and religious groups, would be assigned to the Greek organizations on a basis of their capacities.

Cook felt that his program would promote good feeling among living groups; provide a substitute for Hell week that would retain its values but none of its perils to health, scholarship, and house unity; and would dignify the pre-initiation period and the initiation itself.

The plan received approval from the offices of men's affairs and student affairs at Oregon. National Interfraternity council has indicated acceptance of the "help week" theory.

ALGER HISS REQUESTS THIRD PERJURY TRIAL

New York, Jan. 24.—(U)—Former state department official Alger Hiss, convicted of lying about his connection with a Communist spy ring, has asked for a third trial. Hiss now is serving a five-year sentence imposed after conviction in his second perjury trial on Jan. 21, 1950.

A lawyer for Hiss, challenging the testimony of Whittaker Chambers and a maid who testified she worked for Chambers, says he has uncovered new evidence.

of these possibilities, it was pointed out that his attitude left the door open. To that the President, obviously enjoying the stir caused by his refusal to say yes or no, replied that the door is always open in politics.

He was questioned about Senator Estes Kefauver, who announced yesterday that he is in the Democratic fight for the presidential nomination. Mr. Truman described the senate crime investigation chairman as a nice fellow and a good senator.

He said there would be a lot of Democratic hopefuls, and he felt he shouldn't pick any favorites . . . not even Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, with whom he talked yesterday.

In Springfield, Gov. Stevenson told newsmen today that the possibility of his becoming the Democratic presidential nominee is, as he put it, "remote."

Forester's Ball, New Pledges, Sweetheart Of Sigma Chi Are In The Social Swing

Campus socialites will stampede a masse to the Forester's ball this week end. It will be the only function this week end, and Forester's will dominate the scene both nights. Jeans, logger boots, wild shirts, and beards to please the gents and tease the gals will be strongly evident at the dance as usual.

Alpha Phi
Eighteen girls were initiated into the active chapter of Alpha Phi Sunday. They are Margaret Beecher, Cascade; Diane Blake, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Rowena Day, Helena; Cathy Diederichs, Missoula; Nancy Gallagher, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Arlene Hollinger, Butte; Jan Howard, Missoula; Norma Iler, Missoula; Verna Johns, Great Falls; Phyllis Kind, Missoula; Marlene McKinley, Kellogg, Ia.; Nancy Meagher, Berkeley, Calif.; Pat O'Hare, Stevensville; Pat Pattison, Glasgow; Peg Shapod, Anchorage, Alaska; Frances Kahan, Missoula; Bev Tecca, Livingston; and Pat Thomas, Missoula.

Helen Aune, Havre; Dian Gulia, Helena; Virginia Grippie, Havre; Betty McClure, Billings; and Mary Weir, Missoula, were formally pledged Monday evening.

Mrs. Jo Whalen LeClaire, Anaconda; Mrs. Betty Ann Delaney, Helena; Butte; and Dorothy Jean Harrington, Butte, were week-end visitors.

Following its sneak Saturday the pledge class was given a party by the actives.

Sigma Kappa
Mrs. William Seaman, Vancouver, Wash., national second vice president of Sigma Kappa, visited the chapter on an inspection tour this week.

Sigma Kappa Gamma
Week-end guests at the house were pledges Gail McDonald, Barbara Berg, Helena, and Cecilia Twilte, Billings. Joan Ward and Ruth Galen, both of Missoula, are living in the house this quarter. An exchange dinner was held with the Tri Deltas Wednesday.

Synadelphic

Nickie Scott, Tenaflly, N.J., received a diamond from Lieut. Walt Thiem '51, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. An exchange dinner with the Delta Gammas was given Tuesday.

Donna Nooney, Missoula, was a dinner guest Wednesday evening. After dinner, several numbers were sung by Dolores Gilsky, Pat Fraher, and Miss Nooney.

New Hall

New residents in the hall this quarter are Helen Aune, Havre; Nelda Erickson, Plentywood; Primrose Grosseschi, Great Falls; Virginia Grippie, Havre; Dixy Redd, Dillon; Pat Thompson, Havre; Margaret Wetzsteon, Sula; Mary Louise Stroeder, Billings; Donna Stemm, Kalispell; Mary Lula Zimmerman, Billings; and Natalie Johnson, Helena.

Shirley Liebing, Miles City, was the week-end guest of Jeanne Couture, Arlee. Lauris Collison, Great Falls, received a diamond from Jim Hitson, Great Falls.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Mrs. Richard Jesse gave a talk on etiquette at the Sig Ep house Monday evening.

At an initiation Sunday Dave Larom, Valley, Wyo.; Dud Dean, Billings; Ralph Hershberger, Tiffin, Ohio; and Gene Hoyt, Havre, went active.

New pledges are Carl Westby Jr., Culbertson, and Harry Burnell, Kalispell.

Phi Delta Theta

House officers for winter quarter were elected and initiated Jan. 7. They are Don Talcott, Great Falls, house manager; Pete Brazier, Helena, vice president; P. J. Casey, Great Falls, secretary; and Norm Anderson, Chinook, warden.

Ed Anderson, Missoula, and Matt Mulligan, Butte, are new pledges.

Alpha Tau Omega

New pledge officers elected Monday night are Louis Penwell, Billings, president; Ronnie Simmons, Fort Peck, vice president; and Max Larson, Stanford, secretary-treasurer. Gene Barrett, Hobson, has been named pledge master to replace Falle Nelson, Glendive.

Interfraternity pledge bowling was held Tuesday and a new schedule was drawn up to pair off teams. Pledge bowling will be held every Saturday afternoon, beginning Feb. 2.

Gilbert Bremicher, Berwyn, Ill., was a dinner guest at the house Jan. 17. Orville Vinge, Lewistown, and Falle Nelson, Glendive, have been confined to the infirmary during the past week.

Sigma Chi

The fireside held last Friday was characterized by pink lemonade, a jazz band, and refreshment vendors. It was well attended by chapter members.

Jack Raisler, Billings, was recently pledged.

The annual Alpha Phi-Sigma Chi snowball fight was staged Saturday. After the battle the group adjourned to a jam session at the house.

On Wednesday evening the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi of 1951 and this year's candidates were entertained at the house. Group pictures were taken. This is the first of a series of functions preceding the Sweetheart ball.

Fischer Talks To Geologists

Speaker at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, geology professional fraternity, was geology senior Bob Fischer, Chicago. Fischer spoke on topographic mapping methods used near Hungry Horse dam. Fischer spent last summer working for the Bureau of Reclamation on a survey of the dam's reservoir site.

Fischer's talk was first in a series to be given by geology students telling of their summer work in geology or related fields.

Dr. Kenneth P. McLaughlin, chairman of the geology department, said that the club meets each Wednesday noon for lunch in Room 3, Main hall. All geology majors and interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

Old Man Winter Still Harasses Montana Campus

Old man winter's back just won't seem to break. Despite the efforts of the university maintenance department to keep ahead of winter furies, the snow keeps piling up in the wrong places.

The small plow which clears sidewalks has kept its operator, Bill Drader, busy continually since the big snow earlier this month. This unit is satisfactory for plowing or sweeping average snows, but when wind packs it into drifts the maintenance department has to get help from the city in clearing the roadways.

The maintenance department employs three full-time workers and some part-time student help. It had planned on using athletes for some of the cleanup jobs, but when the men found out the work entailed snow shoveling the plan was abolished.

Cleanup operations and heating costs are expensive items on the maintenance budget when Hellgate kicks up its heels. The day of the big blow last Tuesday the heating plant burned 34 tons of coal in its stokers.

VA Outlines Dividend Plan

Nearly 450 MSU veterans will divide about $18,000 when the Veterans Administration pays another dividend early in March.

C. N. Lindsay, contact representative for the VA in Missoula, said yesterday that five million veterans will share in the distribution of $200,000,000. Veterans living in the Pacific Northwest will receive around $7,000,000 from the third dividend to be paid on G.I. insurance policies.

According to Mr. Lindsay, policy holders who wish to receive their 1952 dividend in cash must notify the VA. Policy holders who do not notify the VA will not receive their dividend in cash. Instead, it will be used to pay G.I. insurance premiums coming due after the dividend is payable, if the policy holder fails to pay such premiums.

The VA will mail a special form to all eligible policy holders which they may use to request cash payment, he said. However, any type of written request for cash payment will be acceptable to the VA.

This third G.I. insurance dividend is payable to policy holders whose G.I. insurance was in force under premium-paying conditions for three months or longer between the 1951 and 1952 anniversary dates of their policies.

First payments are expected in March and future payments are planned as soon after the anniversary date as possible.

'Macbeth' Score Completed

Music for the Masquer production of "Macbeth" has been completed by Monroe DeJarnette, Missoula. A 10-piece orchestra will play the modernistic composition for the play which opens in Simpkins Little theater Tuesday and continues through Saturday. The first music to be written at MSU especially for a play, the work has a total playing time of nearly 45 minutes.

DeJarnette, a senior music major specializing in clarinet, won third prize last year in the symposium original music contest and won first prize the year before. He is president of Sinfonia and plays solo clarinet for the MSU band and orchestra.

Six Themes

The background music for the play is based on six themes. One theme expresses Macbeth's inner conflict, another represents Lady Macbeth's forceful drive, and a third is written in triplet rhythm to set the mood for the three witches.

A heavy, repetitious theme is used for the Birnam woods which, by prophecy, will move when Macbeth's doom is near. For comic relief, there is a light porter's theme.

Old Scale Used

One theme is based on the five-note scale used long before the birth of Christ. It is introduced to show the solitude and serenity which Banquo and Duncan find at Macbeth's castle when they arrive.

DeJarnette has used the present eight-note scale to vary the theme later to indicate the foreboding of evil.

Composition Takes Time

He completed the 45-minute composition in a month and a half. He usually works about four months on a three- or four-minute composition for four instruments.

Members of the orchestra for the play are Virginia Balkovetz, Twin Bridges, violin; Betty Rumph, Broadus, violin; Stella Critelli, Billings, viola; Carol Critelli, Billings, cello; Judy Hardon, Billings, flute; Irvin Brusletten, Polson, clarinet; Richard Eichholz, Hamilton, clarinet; Roland Grotte, Hamilton, trumpet; Don Isbell, Chinook, French horn; and Don Hardisty, Butte, timpani.

Community Center Movie Tonight

There will be a movie tonight at the Community Center starting at 7:30, Bob Breen, director of the student housing project, said yesterday.

The movie "Once More, My Darling" is a romantic comedy starring Robert Montgomery, Ann Blyth, and Jane Cowl. There will also be a short feature.

These strip movies are only for the tenants living in the housing unit, the pre-fabs, and their guests, because of the limited seating space, Breen said.

Students in Poll Believe Honesty Is General Rule

In a recent survey conducted for Pathfinder magazine by a Kaimin reporter, 19 out of 20 students felt that honesty was the general rule in public life. They thought that the dishonest individuals being turned up by the recent tax bureau scandals are only a very small percentage of government officials.

All of the students contacted were familiar with the revelations in the tax scandals but only one felt that he would be interested in joining the minority. He felt that if the circumstances and the price was right, he might be tempted.

In answer to the question, "Have current scandals had any effect on possible thoughts that you might seek some form of public service as a life's work?" Seventeen out of the twenty said no. Three said yes. One felt that if he ran and was elected, he might also become corrupt. The other two felt that they should run for office because they feel a need for honesty in government. The only way these two believed in getting an honest government is to take a hand in it personally.

Drivers Warned Of Speeding In Housing Areas

Speeding in the strip house area is on the increase again, Bob Breen, director of the housing units, said yesterday.

The speed limit is 10 miles per hour. The roads are slippery and some of the streets are not too wide, he said. If a child should suddenly step out from behind a parked auto it would be hard to stop in time.

The housing office will appreciate the license numbers of those cars who are exceeding the speed limits, he said.

Skyline Eight Teams Busy

Red-hot basketball will be on tap this week end as the top four Skyline teams tangle in conference games.

The conference-leading Brigham Young Cougars played up-and-coming Denver in the Colorado capital last night, and the second-place Utah Redskins will battle the Wyoming Cowboys at Laramie tomorrow night. The Utah-Wyoming clash may be one of the most decisive games of the conference season.

BYU travels to Albuquerque tomorrow where they play the New Mexico Lobos, who are currently tied with Colorado A and M in the Skyline cellar. Wyoming, having a busy week, defeated Colorado State 74 to 62 in a non-conference game Wednesday night at Greeley, and will play the Grizzlies tonight at Laramie before battling Utah in that crucial game tomorrow.

The Colorado Aggies entertain Utah tonight and Montana tomorrow at Fort Collins.

Monday's I-M Sked

Corbin vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon, 8:30; Angels vs. Sigma Nu, 7:45; and Deacons vs. Strip Houses, 9.

Montana's Grizzlies will have a light workout in the new million-dollar fieldhouse at Laramie today in preparation for their second hardwood tussle with the fast Wyoming Cowboys. Wyoming's fieldhouse is made to order for fire-engine basketball, so the Grizzlies will have a real chore in trying to match the Cowpokes. The Grizzlies gave Wyoming Coach Ev Shelton enough of a scare last week end here, so that he will not be starting his "control ball" unit this time. If the Grizzlies can regain the fast break ability they exhibited in the Gonzaga series they could close the scoring gap of the last game and maybe give the Cowboys trouble.

But it takes rebounds to win. The Grizzlies shoot well enough from the field, but it is at the free-throw line that points are lost. The Silvertips have the lowest free-throw percentage in the Skyline, 52 per cent.

Saturday night the Grizzlies tangle with the Colorado A and M Rams and this will be a close one. The Rams average 58 points a game, but the Grizzlies do them a little better with a 58.2 game average. However, the Rams have the lowest field goal percentage of any team in the conference, as they boast only 29 per cent accuracy from the field. Sneath is the top man in the Ram scoring column with 54 points and a 10.8 Skyline game average.

Chuck Davis is still the second highest Skyline scorer in conference games, with a 17.8 average in four games. He follows Glenn Smith of Utah, who boasts an 18.7 average. Grizzly Bob Sparks may not be so high in the Skyline scoring figures, but he leads the Skyline in assists, having passed off for nine Grizzly baskets.

Bob "Lefty" Byrne has been drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers to play professional football, but Byrne will probably turn the offer down to play pro baseball. Of course, Uncle Sam will probably put in a demanding call, also.

Swimming Coach Fred Erdhaus reports his swimming squad will have a rough go at their first meet of the season tomorrow at Brigham City, Utah. With only eight of his 18 fall quarter tank squad returning to the campus this quarter, it is no wonder. George Harpole and Bob Cooney should win their events, but the rest of the Grizzly swimmers lack experience.

Dick Doyle leaves Jan. 29 for San Francisco to start winding his discus arm for the Olympic trials, which will take place in Los Angeles in late June.

Intramural Board Accepts Ski Club's Contest Plans

Yesterday afternoon, in a controversial meeting, the intramural sports board accepted the Ski club's plan for the campus ski meet Sunday at 9:30 a.m. on Diamond mountain.

The board's two-hour discussion centered on two points: one, whether to allow Class A skiers to compete in the contest; and two, how many members should be on a team. It was finally decided to let Class A skiers enter.

A team for the meet will consist of not more than five men and not less than three. Each team will run the giant slalom twice, and the three best times turned in by the

Blaik to Remain Coach at Academy

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Army Military academy at West Point has announced that Earl Blaik will remain as Army football coach and athletic director.

The superintendent at the academy, Maj. Gen. Frederick Irving, said tonight that he met with Blaik today and that Blaik says he intends to stay.

There had been many reports that Blaik would quit at Army because of the cribbing scandal which led to the expulsion of most of his team, and because of a resulting de-emphasis of football.

Ted Rhodes of Los Angeles got a 37 on the first nine, 34 on the back nine, for an 18-hole total of 71.

Dahlberg Takes Three Frosh To Give Grizzlies More Height

BY JIM PURCELL

With a Skyline record of one win against three losses, the Montana Grizzlies left Missoula yesterday afternoon on a two-game conference journey. Friday night, the Grizzlies tangle with the fast Wyoming Cowboys at Laramie, and Saturday night they meet the Skyline's last place team, the Colorado A&M Rams at Fort Collins.

Grizzly coach "Jiggs" Dahlberg said he hopes for revenge against the Cowpokes, who last week dumped the Grizzlies in a lopsided game here, and hopes for a win against the Rams, whom the Grizzlies meet for the first time.

Dahlberg said he was taking three freshmen in order to add height to the Grizzly five. With the addition of Frank Nickel, Dick Trinastich and Don Sankus, Dahlberg raised the height average of the Grizzly squad to about six feet, two inches.

Grizzlies Practice

The Grizzlies practiced all week on defensive and offensive plays to counteract the height of the Cowboys, he said. Wednesday, he put the squad through a light scrimmage, using the freshmen very effectively.

Commenting on the Grizzlies' first meeting with Colorado A & M, Dahlberg said he knew little about the Rams, but from previous reports, they shouldn't be too tough, if the Grizzlies are up to par. Although Montana's percentage in hitting the hoop from the field is higher than the Rams, the Rams will have the advantage of a home floor.

Lineup Remains Same

Dahlberg said he would start the same five he started against Wyoming last week, with a possible change at center. He said he might start Don Sankus, six feet, five inches, instead of Dale Johnson.

Besides the three freshmen and the starting five, Dahlberg also took Dick Anderson, Bud Bellis, Ritch Johnson, Don Lucas, and student manager Bill Stong.

Dahlberg said that if the lineup he starts in Wyoming works well together, he will definitely start the same five against the Rams tomorrow night.

Of interest to local fans, both games will be broadcast over station KGVO at 8 p.m. each night.

MSU Officials Leave Tomorrow For Skyline Meet

Montana's athletic director, Cac Hubbard, and the new faculty athletic representative, Dr. E. C. Lory, will leave tomorrow afternoon for Salt Lake City and a two-day Skyline conference meeting.

Hubbard said it was the regular meeting of Skyline officials, postponed from December by the presidents of the Skyline schools. He said that the meeting will begin Sunday morning and continue through Monday.

On the agenda will be regular Skyline athletic business plus a consideration of the recommendations of the Skyline presidents, who met recently in Denver.

Sigma Chi, Foresters Win From Phi Dels, Rodeo Club

Sigma Chi moved into a tie with the Ski club for first place in league B Wednesday night by downing the Phi Dels 51-40 in a game that saw-sawed back and forth six times before two quick baskets by Kim Nelson late in the third quarter gave the Sigs a 31-27 lead which they never relinquished.

Trailing 13-8 at the end of the first quarter, the Sigs found the range from the freethrow line and hit seven of eight attempts in the second quarter and at intermission had made it a 21-21 ball game.

In the third quarter, Kim Nelson and Bob Fosse sparked a Sig drive that gave them a 33-27 lead going into the fourth quarter. Johnson worked hard for the Phi Dels in the final quarter and got seven of his 16 points then, but the rebounding of the Sigs kept them in control.

Johnson was high point man, with 16 for the Phi Dels. Nelson led the Sigma Chi attack with 15 with Fosse getting 12 and Wolfe's accurate long shots got him nine.

The Foresters won the only other Wednesday night game by beating the Rodeo club 32-29. Smith and Englebreton shared scoring honors for the Foresters with seven each. Talcott was high for the Rodeo club with 11 points.
